Robert L. Derbyshire, Ph. D.

At a time when charges of dehumanization and a lack of feeling for the individual are being hurled at medicine and the medical school, we dedicate this edition to a man whose actions refute those charges.

Dr. Robert L. Derbyshire, Associate Professor of Sociology in Psychiatry is noted for his human touch and his personal interest in students. His door has been open, his hand extended and his time available to the student who has needed him. Many students have found him to be a good friend, a willing listener and a valued counselor.

Dr. Derbyshire is a dedicated teacher, a leader in his field, an asset to the medical school.

It is in the clinical years where the student begins the actual study of medicine. Up to this point he has experienced two years of "preparation", studying everything from enzyme constants to the null hypothesis. After an endless series of lectures, quizzes and exams he is ready to meet "the patient". With the reassurance of a passing grade on National Boards Part I, he is ready to learn diagnosis and treatment.

During these two years students rotate through most of the major departments within the hospital. Many, for better or for worse, take some of their rotations at other hospitals both locally and out of state. Indeed, a few students elect to learn abroad and arrange rotations at foreign medical centers.

As a junior medical student the emphasis is on learning the diagnosis of disease. Many hours are spent writing histories and physicals and few symptoms are left undescribed. An equal amount of time is devoted to another form of learning often referred to as "scut". By the senior year the medical student has discovered how to diagnose disease and this year is devoted to learning methods of treatment.

To show how much he has learned, the student is allowed to take the second part of the National Board exams near the end of his senior year. This is followed a short time later by graduation and the privilege of signing M.D. after his name.

WILLIE A. ANDERSEN
University of Virginia, Charlottesville
Mixed-Med/Surg

Willie, a friendly and well-liked member of our class, is originally from down south in Mississippi, and is a graduate of the University of Virginia with a BA in Religion. He finds the greatest enjoyment in his outside activities at the Catonsville Lacrosse Club, pursuing a free-time profession of rest and relaxation. A member of Nu Sigma Nu, he has found time to work for the Maryland State Health Department in Pediatrics and to do surgical research at City. He and his wife Ellen profess uncertainty as to their future environs, but they are sure to include opportunities for the practice of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Willie A. Ande MD

ARTHUR O. ANDERSON
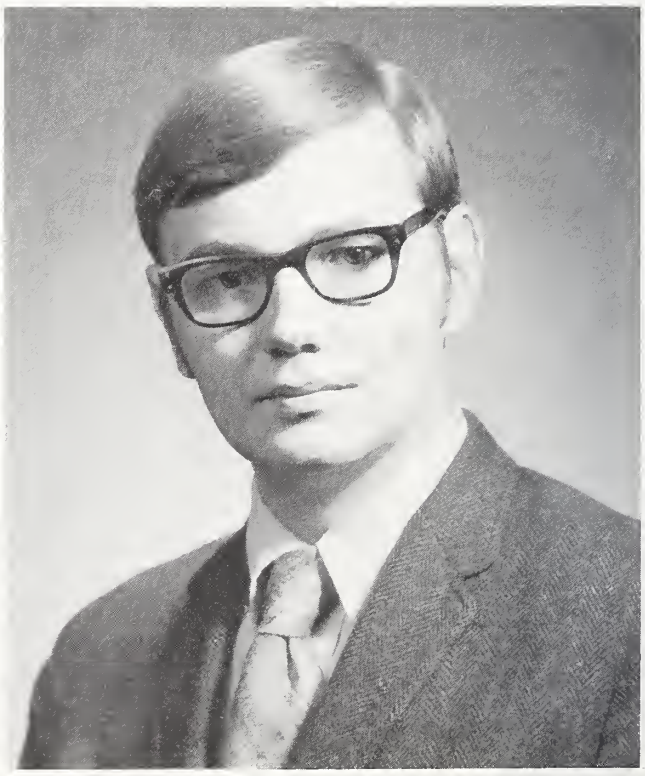
Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore
Pathology

Art is an appropriate name for this talented artist in our class. A graduate of Wagner College with a BS in Biology, Art served as freshman yearbook representative and is a member of Nu Sigma Nu. He took an elective at Johns Hopkins in the Medical Illustration Department, and does free lance medical illustration on his own. Art has also done research in the Immune Diseases and has a special interest in the arteritides. He and Judy live in a roomy house where Art has room for his many hobbies. He plans a future in Pathology.



Arthur O Anderson MD

HARRY ANTHONY ARDOLINO
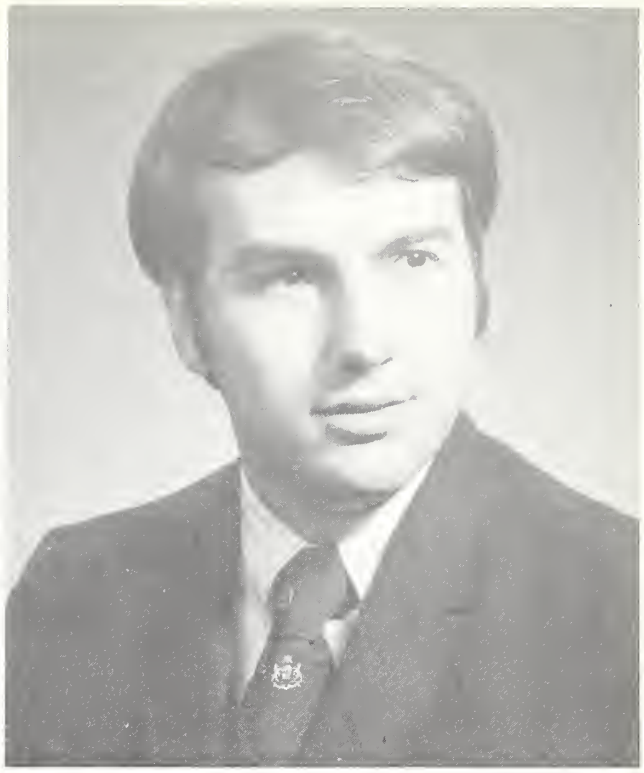
French Hospital, San Francisco
Rotating

Harry joins the migration to the West where life is tailored for the bachelor. A native of New Haven, Conn., he graduated from Providence College with an A.B. in biology. Harry's theories on females in general, and nurses in particular, which developed after years of undergraduate, medical, and some European experience, are well known among the few free rovers in the class. A member of Nu Sigma Nu and a regular in intramural athletics, Harry is undecided on future plans.



Harry Ardolino M.D.

JEROME DAVID ARONOWITZ
Lenox Hill Hospital, New York
Mixed-Med/Ob

Jerry, a native New Yorker, came from the U. of Michigan with a B.A. in English and a summer's experience with schizophrenic children. He is one of the originators of the local chapter of the Student Health Organization, and spent a summer at the SHO project in New York's lower east side. Jerry has been a crusader for the hospital employee and a counseler at the methadone maintenance program. Jerry will specialize in Ob-Gyn and has already received training at University, Boston City, Peter Bent Brigham and Peninsula General Hospitals.

GEORGE LYNN AUSTIN
Duke Medical Center, Durham
Surgery

George has the unique experience of attending a medical school where his father was a professor. He received his B.A. degree in pre-medical studies from the Johns Hopkins University and has concentrated his interest in the surgical fields. A member of Phi Beta Pi, George plans a future in Surgery.

George L Austin M.D.

ALVA SAYRS BAKER III
University Hospital, Baltimore
Family Practice

Buzz, a boy from down on the farm in Howard County, did his undergraduate training at Western Maryland College, from which he received his B.A. in Pre-Med and Biology. His free time in medical school has been spent working in the Clinical Study Center, where he is studying factors regulating calcium absorption. Despite this emphasis on and obvious preparation for Endocrinology, Buzz is determined not to be swayed from his chosen specialty, Family Medicine.

Alva Baker M.D.

ALDIS BALTINS
Public Health Service, Baltimore
Rotating

As honorary entrepreneur of the class of 1970, Al was the faithful and hard-working sophomore and junior social chairman. Al put a great deal of time and energy into carefully planning exhilarating and stimulating extracurricular activity for the ever-fatigued med student. A zoology major at College Park, Al spent one summer externing at St. Agnes. Whenever med school pressures showed signs of diminishing (and sometimes prior to the appearances of such signs), Al and Deanna would seek leisure moments on the ski slopes and high seas. Future professional plans are undecided, but Orthopedics is a possibility.

Al Baltins M.D.

FRANCIS ANDREW BARTEK
University Hospital, Baltimore
Ob-Gyn

Frank is a quiet but enthusiastic product of Loyola College in Baltimore, where he earned his B.S. degree. Much of his free time has been spent close to the earth farming in northern Maryland and close to the magnifying glass studying stamps. A member of Phi Beta Pi fraternity, Frank has worked for two summers in obstetrics as an extern at St. Agnes Hospital and at University. After a mixed surgery—Ob internship, Frank plans to enter his residency in Ob-Gyn.

Francis Bartek, M.D.

GARY ALLEN BELAGA
South Baltimore General Hospital
Rotating

A native of Baltimore, Gary completed his undergraduate training at the University of Maryland receiving a BS in psychology. During medical school he held externships at South Baltimore General, and with the Baltimore City Department of Health, giving valuable assistance to Dr. Tayback. Gary was a member of Phi Delta Epsilon and worked actively on the 1968 yearbook. He and Lois look forward to a future in Neurology.

Gary A. Belaga, M.D.

DAVID H. BERKELEY
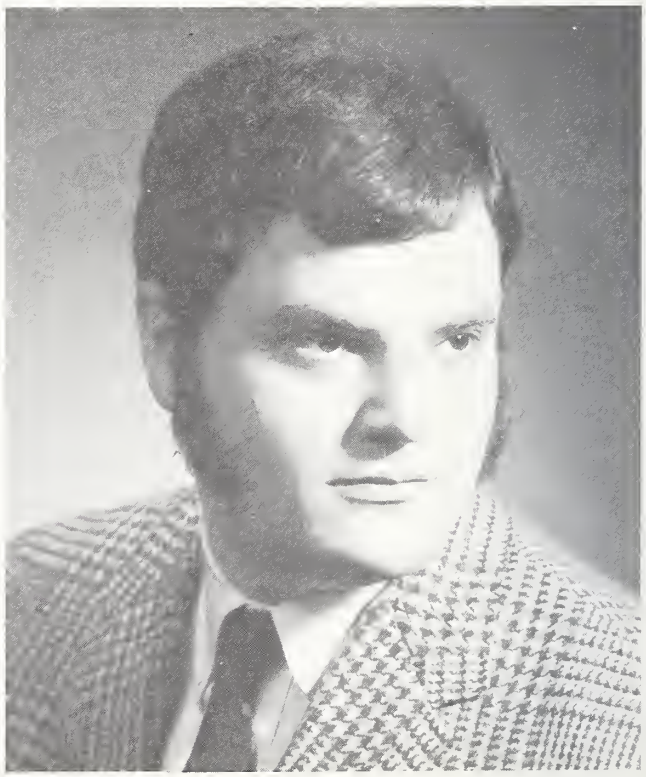
Metropolitan Hospital, New York
Medicine

The Maryland Restaurant Association's loss becomes New York City's gain as Dave returns to his native land for a straight medicine internship at Metropolitan Hospital. Listing such notables as Julia Childs and Craig Claiborne among his boyhood idols Dave is a true gourmet. Imbued with the importance of freshly caught ingredients of a pleasing bouillabaisse Cap'n Dave has spent numerous hours at the helm searching for the "Great White Tuna". A graduate of Cornell University, Dave spent his summers traveling and fishing. He and Judy are aiming for a future in Pathology.



David H. Berkeley M.D

DAVID H. BERMAN
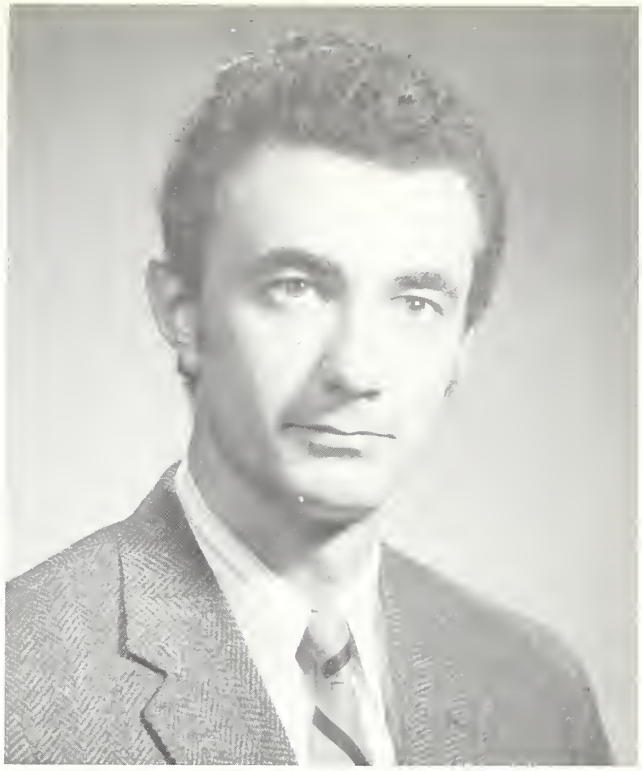
Illinois Research & Education, Chicago
Medicine

Holding such exciting summer positions in the past as industrial ink-maker in Berkeley, California, and busboy in the Catskill Mountains, Dave returns to his windy city origin for a straight medicine internship at the University of Illinois Research and Education Hospital. Having sampled the culinary design in Baltimore ranging from Jack's to Danny's, Dave is looking forward to his up and coming assault on the famous kitchens of Chicago. Dave holds a BA from Grinnell College and an MS in Anatomy from the University of Illinois. A member of Phi Delta Epsilon, he served as senior SAMA representative. He and Marsha, a biology teacher, plan a future in Internal Medicine with an eventual move toward the west coast.



David H. Berman, M.D

RICHARD ALAN BLOOMFIELD
Naval Hospital, San Diego
Rotating

A combination of genius, perserverance, and friendliness, Richard received his undergraduate training at College Park, majoring in chemistry. For four years, in the early morning hours, with deadly aim, he performed his task of venipuncture as a member of the University blood team. He held fellowships in Preventive Medicine and Clinical Medicine. A member of AOA, and a Cum Laude graduate, Rich also received the Milton F. Saks Memorial Award for excellence in Medicine and Hematology. A member of Phi Delta Epsilon, he served for two years as its historian. Of considerable athletic prowess, Richard participated often in intramural sports, and is an accomplished skier. He and Karen plan a future in either General Practice or General Surgery.

Richard A Bloomfield MD

CHARLES NEAL BOOKOFF
Mount Zion Hospital, San Francisco
Rotating

Chuck, a graduate of George Washington University with a background in chemistry, is one of those who heeded the words, "Go West, young man." After a summer at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco, he has decided to return there for his internship. During other elective months he traveled to Bellevue in New York for Pediatrics, and to St. Agnes for radiology. He guided the class of 1970 to several athletic victories as chairman of intramural sports. Future specialty plans are presently undecided.

Charles Neal Bookoff M.D.

MARTIN BRAUN III
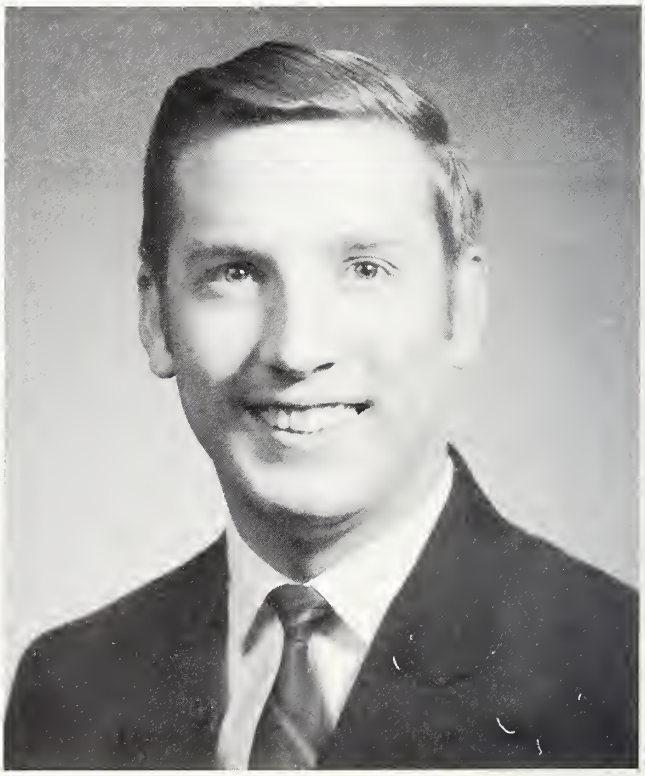
Washington Hospital Center, DC
Medicine

Marty enjoyed the German language as his major at College Park. His interests soon changed and after three years he entered medical school. Marty soon became interested in Medicine and in his pretty pediatrician wife, Bobbie. Marty spent two summers working in Anesthesiology and contributed to a publication in that field. A third summer was spent at Mercy in Medicine. Future professional plans are in Internal Medicine.



Martin Braun M.D

HENRY ALISON BRIELE, JR.
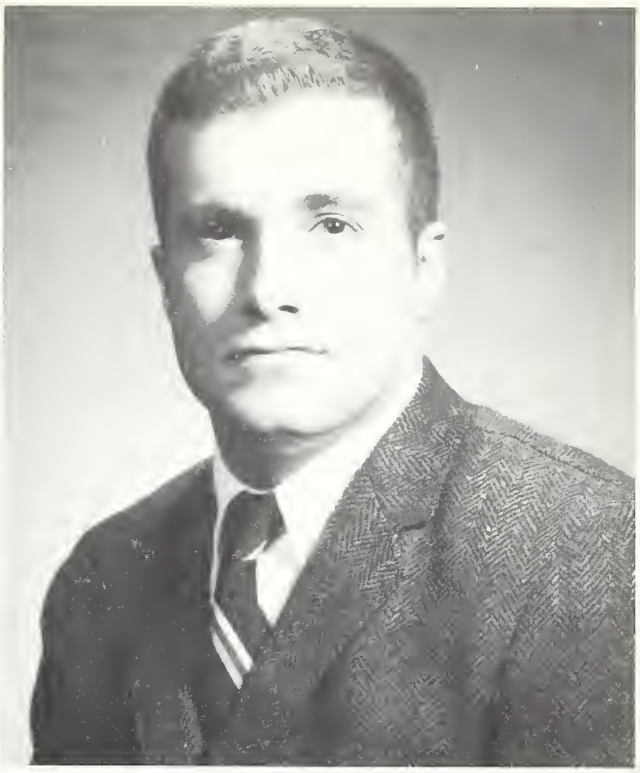
University Hospital, Baltimore
Medicine

Soft-spoken and friendly, this native of Salisbury, Md., adds true southern hospitality to our class. Hank graduated from Colgate University, receiving his degree in Zoology. While not studying, he and wife Clo enjoy the outdoors by hunting, skiing, and sailing. A member of Nu Sigma Nu, Hank has worked summers in Pulmonary Disease at University and in the Shock Trauma Unit. He will be a straight medicine intern prior to preparation for a career in General Surgery.



Henry A. Briele, M.D.

ROBERT F. BYRNE
Washington Hospital Center, DC
Mixed-Med/Surg

Personable Bob hails from DC, and is a graduate of Scranton University with a BS in Zoology. He has had very busy summers spending his time at the Johns Hopkins Applied Physics Lab, Naval Medical Research Institute, and Maryland General and St. Agnes Hospitals. He is looking forward to a life of golf and Radiology with Sherry and their little girl.

Robert F. Byrne, M.D.

EDWARD HENRY CAHILL
University Hospital, Baltimore
Pediatrics

Ed, a native Marylander, received a BS in Zoology from the University of Maryland. He and his wife Mary enjoy sailboating and refinishing antique furniture. Interested in Pediatrics throughout medical school, Ed spent his summers working for the Community Pediatric Center, the State Health Department, and as a Pediatric extern at Sinai. His future is in Pediatrics, subspecialty presently undecided.

Edward H Cahill M.D.

CAROL E. CAMERON
Good Samaritan Hospital, Phoenix
Rotating

Carol has lent culture to our class with BM and MM degrees in piano from the Peabody Conservatory. Before coming to medical school, she worked as editor for the National Academy of Sciences. Students soon learned that looking over Carol's shoulder was to no avail, since all her notes were in shorthand. Carol has been four times class secretary and three times a Psychiatry fellow. After a rotating internship, she plans a career in Psychiatry.

Carol E Cameron M.D

JOHN P. CAULFIELD
Columbia Presbyterian Hospital, New York
Pathology

John earned his BS degree at Loyola College in Baltimore and then delved into the medical and political life of Maryland. Married to JoAnn, a nurse, John is one of our most active and hard-working students. Summers were spent in Psychopharmacology, Pathology and Forensic Pathology. A member of Student Council for several years, John served as its president during his junior year. He has also served on the Student Activities Committee, the Student Committee on Medical Education, and the Faculty Curriculum Committee. A member of Nu Sigma Nu, he was the representative to the SAMA and SHO National Conventions in 1968. After a pathology externship at Columbia, John decided to continue his Pathology training there.

John P. Caulfield M.D.

LEO A. COURTNEY III
Maryland General Hospital, Baltimore
Mixed-Med/Surg

Leo was one of a large group coming to Baltimore after an undergraduate career at College Park, where he received a BS in Zoology. During the summers, Leo worked as a preceptor in Anesthesiology at City and as an extern in medicine at Maryland General. A member of Nu Sigma Nu, Leo will be spending his internship year in his home town of Baltimore. He and his wife, Lysbeth, are enthusiastic about a future in Orthopedic Surgery.

Leo A. Courtney, M.D.

DWIGHT E. CRAMER
Baltimore City Hospitals
Rotating

Dwight came to the University of Maryland after earning his B.S. degree in Mathematics at College Park. Well known for exotic dieting, Dwight has often been spotted sharing his luncheon apple with his wife Oneida, a graduate student in physiology. Dwight will be combining his interests in Pediatrics and Surgery into a career in ENT.

Dwight E. Cramer M.D.

ROBERT BRENT CRAVEN
York Hospital, York
Rotating

A native of Aberdeen, Md., Bob graduated from the University of Virginia and received a BA in psychology. Before entering medical school, Bob worked in the graduate department of psychology and is the co-author of several papers. During junior summer, Bob spent two months working at St. Thomas Hospital in London. From that experience, along with other work during his senior year, came a paper concerned with the delivery of medical care. A member of Nu Sigma Nu, he ultimately plans to practice Internal Medicine on the Middle Atlantic Seaboard.

Robert B. Craven M.D.

OMAR D. CROTHERS III
Union Memorial Hospital, Baltimore
Surgery

A native Baltimorean, Chip graduated from Princeton in 1963 and spent the next several years teaching science in Connecticut and Rhode Island. Chip spent one summer and an elective month in the Pediatric Surgery Department at Hopkins, and also did a surgical externship at Union Memorial. Encouraged by his wife, Leah, he is pursuing a course toward academic Orthopedic Surgery. Otherwise, he is on the Bay, sailing.

Omar D. Crothers III M.D.

JOSEPH HARRY CUNNINGHAM, JR.
State Univ. Iowa Hospitals, Iowa City
Medicine

Joe comes to us from the University of Delaware with a BA in Biology. Six months before med school were spent working in the DuPont Labs. Seeking the sun and surf, he and his wife, Leslie, have been seen frequently on the beach at Lewis, Delaware, where Joe enjoyed externships at Beebe Hospital. Joe plans a future in Internal Medicine, possibly subspecializing in Gastroenterology.

Joseph H. Cunningham Jr. M.D.

TIMOTHY PAUL DALY
Washington Hospital Center, DC
Medicine

La Salle College in Philadelphia sent us Tim, who came to Baltimore with a background in Biology. Tim is well known and liked by the many in the class who profited from his enthusiasm and willingness to share. He, and his wife Kathy, and their son Patrick, are at present uncertain about their plans in the post-internship years.

Timothy P. Daly M.D.

JOSEPH Z. DAVIDS
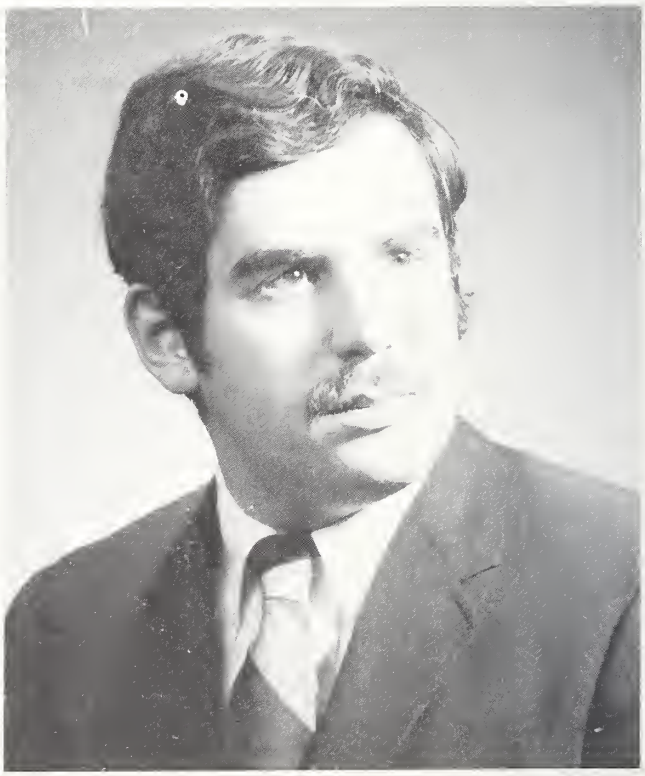
Grady Memorial Hospital, Atlanta
Medicine

Joe joined our class after three years at College Park. He found books and journals his most dependable friends in medical school. The result: election to AOA in his junior year, Cum Laude honors, and fellowships in epidemiology, neuropathology and cardiology. His wife, Sharon, is currently in commercial art and shares with Joe his love of theater and art. Joe, a member of Phi Delta Epsilon, plans to specialize in cardiology.



Joseph Z. Davids M.D.

MITCHELL E. DAVIS
Washington Hospital Center, DC
Medicine

This good-natured product of Washington, DC, attended George Washington University for his undergraduate years, where he received a BS in Zoology. Mitch spent his summers at University of Maryland and the Washington Hospital Center working in the Department of Ophthalmology. His future will also be in this field.

Mitchell Davis, M.D.

JERALD S. DAVITZ
Children's Hospital, Los Angeles
Pediatrics

Jerry began his undergraduate training at Tufts University but later he transferred to the University of Maryland from which he received an honors degree in philosophy. As a medical student, Jerry will be remembered especially by members of his carpool, for his chronometer-like punctuality. A member of Phi Delta Epsilon, Jerry spent one summer in surgical research and two as a Pediatric extern at St. Agnes. Jerry also spent an elective month working with a private Pediatrician. He, Tami, and their newborn daughter, plan a future in Pediatrics, part time private practice and part time academics.

Jerald S. Davitz M.D.

DONALD DEAN DOUGLAS
Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit
Medicine

Don, who calls Waukegan, Illinois home, obtained his B.S. degree in Biology from Creighton University, where he spent eight months in cardiovascular research prior to starting medical school. He continued this interest in a fellowship in cardiovascular research for the Dept. of the Navy during his freshman summer, followed by a fellowship in anatomic pathology at St. Agnes Hospital. When not amusing his classmates it has been reported you could find Don pacing the floor with his trumpet the night prior to exams. Following internship Don plans to enter the Navy prior to a residency in either Internal Medicine or Family Practice.

Donald D. Douglas M.D.

A. STEPHEN DUBANSKY
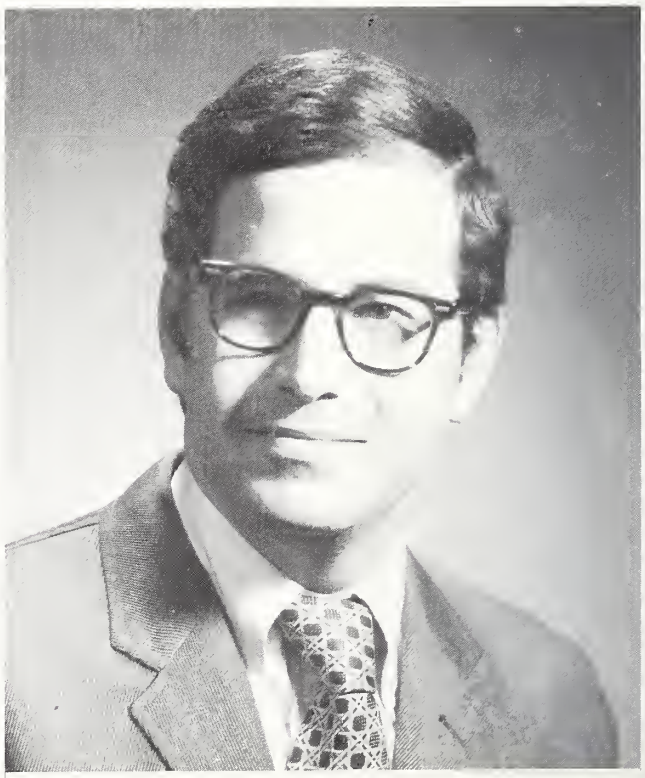
Bronx Municipal Hospital, New York
Pediatrics

Steve is the sports and photography enthusiast from Union College whose heart belongs to Pediatrics, as evidenced by his receiving the Bradley Pediatric Award. As the friend and healer of the "little people," Steve has worked for two summers in Pediatrics and has studied Pediatric Surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital. Steve and his wife Amy, an art teacher, will be moving to New York where he will begin his post-graduate training in Pediatrics.



A. Stephen Dubansky MD

ROBERT NELSON EGBERT
Sinai Hospital, Baltimore
Rotating

Bob, a native of Stamford, Connecticut, attended Johns Hopkins University as an undergraduate and for one year of postgraduate study in biology. Nobody can forget Bob's keg-beer cooler or his wide variety of outside interests. His hobbies have ranged from hi-fi, through color TV, to the development of his own color photography laboratory. He richly deserves our class's special appreciation for his generous photographic contributions to this yearbook. Bob's specialty interest developed in a rather unusual manner; he served as a subject in an experiment conducted by the Anesthesiology Department. During senior year, an elective month in Anesthesiology convinced Bob and his wife, Anne, a Hopkins med student, to undertake this as his professional career interest.

Robert N. Egbert MD

MICHAEL J. EMLEY

RALPH EPSTEIN
Sinai Hospital, Baltimore
Medicine

A native Baltimorean, Ralph spent his undergraduate years at Johns Hopkins University and received a BA in liberal arts. A member of Phi Delta Epsilon, Ralph spent his freshman summer as a Neurology extern. The other summers were spent as a research assistant at Hopkins Hospital, resulting in the publication of three articles with Dr. John Money. Ralph, Beverly, and their daughter Ilene, plan a future in the field of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Ralph B. Epstein M.D.

PETER LAVAL EVERS
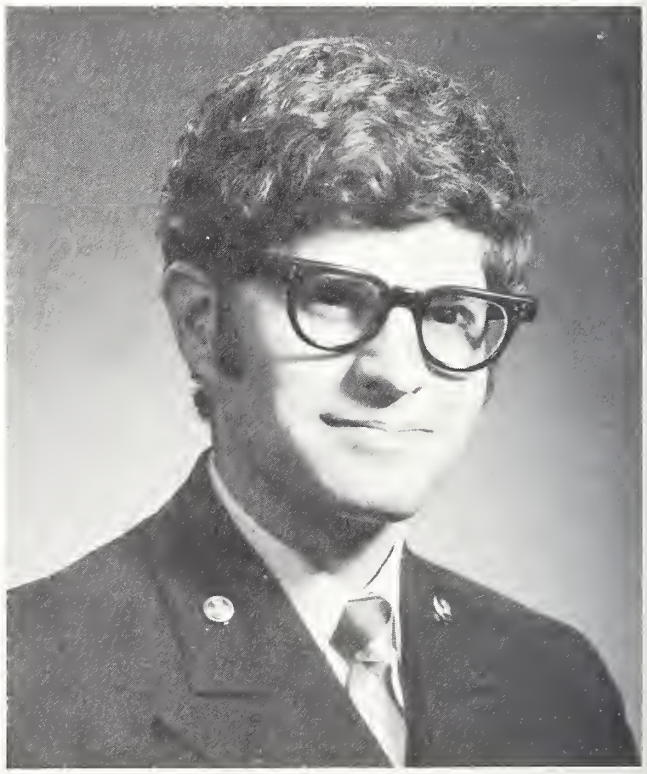
St. Joseph's Hospital, Denver
Rotating

Sporting shaggy dogs and shaggy beards, Peter is the liberal from New York City. He graduated from George Washington U. with an A.B. in psychology. Prior to medical school he worked in teaching, personnel and psychological research. Summers have been spent for the Dept. of PM & R at USC Medical Center Europe and St. Agnes Hospital, where his wife Kathryn is currently an intern.



Peter Laval Evers M.D.

GARY PHILIP FISHER
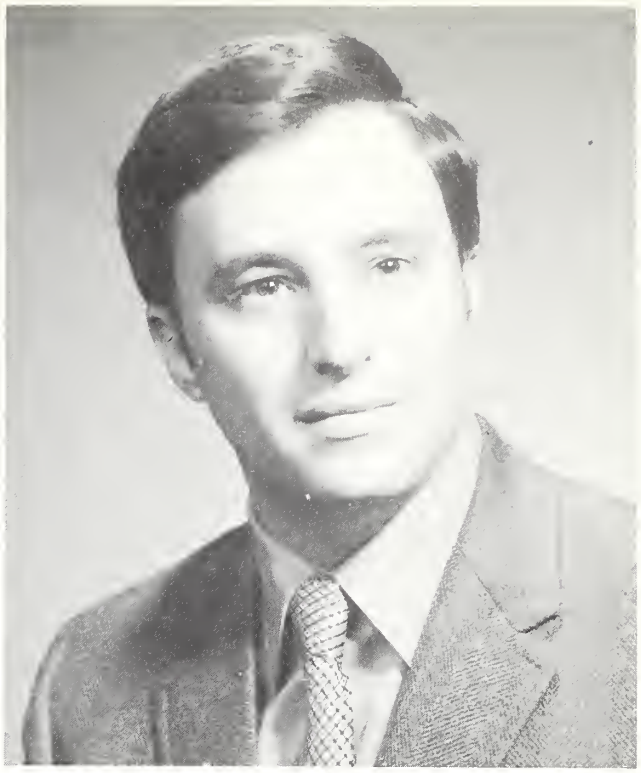
Beth Israel Hospital, Boston
Medicine

One of the youngest and brightest members of our class, Gary took his undergraduate training at the University of Maryland as a psychology major. Quick with the correct diagnosis, Gary distinguished himself early as a master in clinical medicine. An active member of Phi Delta Epsilon, he served senior year as class treasurer. Summers were spent in fellowships in Pathology, Neurology, and Cardiology. Gary took his senior Medicine at Hopkins Hospital. A member of AOA, Gary has the distinction of being our Summa Cum Laude graduate. He and Susan look forward to a career in Cardiology.



Gary P Fisher, M.D

JOSEPH NEIDIG FRIEND
Washington Hospital Center, DC
Rotating

Joe, the Friend of the class, earned a B.S. in Zoology and M. Ed. from the University of Pittsburgh. After teaching high school biology, the tall one has excelled in sports and academics, served as Freshman Athletic Chairman, SAMA representative, a student council member, and has earned election to AOA. Joe has spent summers traveling in Europe and as a medical extern at Mercy Hospital. To Joe and Carol Ann, a career in Internal Medicine seems a certainty.

Joseph N. Friend M.D.

CALVIN F. FUHRMANN
Barnes Hospital, St. Louis
Medicine

Calvin hails from Yonkers, NY, and received his undergraduate training at Western Maryland College. One of the most energetic members of the class, Calvin was a member of Nu Sigma Nu, and a large supporter of intramural football. Cal served as the school's representative to the Southern Medical Association meetings senior year. Summers were spent as an extern at St. Agnes, and in the Division of Arthritis. Jerry came to medical school via three years of engineering at Syracuse University, and one year at the University of Maryland. One of the brightest members of the class, Jerry provided focus to the somewhat hazy principles of Biophysics for his confused classmates. A member of Phi Delta Epsilon, Jerry was elected to AOA, and is known as an accomplished guitar player and photography buff. Jerry held summer fellowships in Nephrology at Sinai, and in Urology at University, and spent one leisurely summer driving across the country. Jerry plans to specialize in Urology.

WALKER LEE ROBINSON
Strong Memorial Hospital, Rochester
Surgery

Walker's past is a testimony to his ability to excel in all endeavors. After graduating at the top of his class from Morgan State, he spent two years in the Army, and two years in an executive position with the telephone company. Once in medical school, he again excelled as a leader academically and in school politics. Walker served on the Student Council for four years, was senior class president, a yearbook staff member, and a member of Nu Sigma Nu. Summers were spent as a fellow in Medicine, and in Pathology in the Medical Examiner's Office. A member of AOA, and a Magna Cum Laude graduate, Walker was the recipient of the Balder Award for highest degree of academic achievement. He and Mae plan a future in Neurosurgery.

Before starting medical school, Hans served in the Army and worked for Hunter Memorial Labs in Washington, D.C. Summer work during medical school has included a Psychiatry fellowship at University Hospital, a fellowship with the Pathology Department at St. Agnes, and emergency room work at South Baltimore General. Congratulations to Hans and Carol Cameron on their coming marriage. Hans plans a future in General Practice in Washington State.

Hans J. Schwarz, MD

LOUIS A. SHPRITZ
University Hospital, Baltimore
Medicine

Lou, a native of Baltimore, received his undergraduate training at the University of Maryland with a major in Psychology. Lou is known best for his energetic and outgoing personality. An active and enthusiastic member of Nu Sigma Nu, he held the positions of treasurer and president. He also served as class treasurer during his freshman and sophomore years and worked hard promoting interclass relationships. Initially inclined toward Ob-Gyn, he spent a summer elective in this field at Maryland. His present plans are to pursue a career in Urology.

Louis A. Shpritz MD.

MARTIN J. SHUMAN
South Baltimore General Hospital
Mixed Medicine

Marty came to medical school from the University of Maryland at College Park where he was a zoology major. During the summers he found time to be a fellow in Ophthalmology and to travel in Europe. His junior summer he stayed close to home to meet his wife Beverly and to become an extern at South Baltimore General Hospital where he now plans to take a mixed medical internship.

Martin J. Shuman M.D.

DAVID LEE SILVERMAN

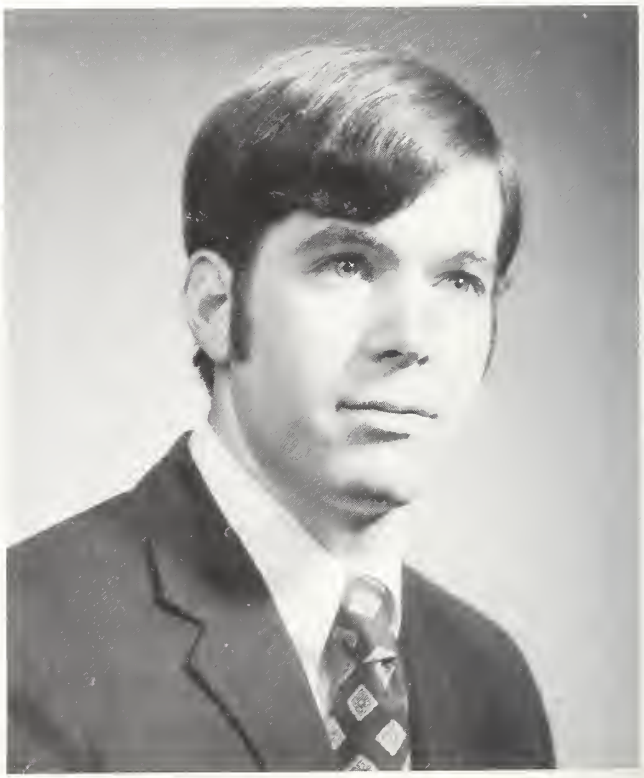
A persistent and highly principled debator, Alan, a native Baltimorean, will remain in his home city for internship. Alan received a B.S. in psychology from the University of Maryland. An active member of Phi Delta Epsilon, he held the positions of treasurer and then president. His summers were devoted to the State Health Department and the Department of Preventive Medicine resulting in a publication in the Maryland State Medical Society Journal. He and his pretty wife Stephany look forward to a future in Ophthalomogy.



Alan Steinberg MD

DAVID TAPPER
University of California, San Francisco
Surgery

Dave hails from Baltimore and earned his B.S. degree in psychology at College Park. In medical school he has been active in both academic and extracurricular activities, earning election to AOA and graduating Magna Cum Laude as well as serving as the Editor-In-Chief of the Aesclepian, and the President of SAMA. If those achievements were not enough, Dave was also the Vice-President of the Student Council and a member of Phi Delta Epsilon fraternity. He has worked summers at the Shock Trauma Unit and as an extern in Pediatric Surgery at the Children's Hospital in Washington, D.C. He and Susan are planning a career in Pediatric Surgery.

David Tapper M.D.

NORMAN WAYNE TAYLOR
Naval Hospital, Philadelphia
Rotating

Wayne arrived in medical school with one of the most varied backgrounds in the class. Following service in the U.S. Army, he obtained his B.S. in Psychology from the University of Maryland. He then worked as a social worker for the Baltimore Department of Public Welfare before returning to formal education to pursue his interest in psychiatry. Summers during medical school were spent in fellowships at the Maryland Psychiatric Research Center, the Spring Grove State Hospital, and in the Navy Training Program, culminating senior year in an elective period spent in Psychiatry at the Bethesda Naval Hospital. Wayne, Beverly, and their two daughters look forward to the practice of Psychiatry in the Navy Medical Corps.

Stan is our class' wise Chinese. Born in Canton, China, he came to the U.S. in 1960 and began his major in Chemistry and the English language simultaneously at Berea College in Kentucky. A member of Nu Sigma Nu, Stan spent the summers in medical school studying Ophthalmology at University Hospital, and in a Medical externship at the Wilmington Medical Center. Tennis is a prime hobby, and Stan was a runner-up in the Medical School Tennis Tournament in 1967. He and Kay plan a career in Ophthalmology.

Stanley S-C Tseng M.D.

HENRY VICINI
Rhode Island Hospital, Providence
Mixed-Med/Surg

Henry is our class' native born Italian, and is now a resident of Baltimore. A graduate of Georgetown University, Henry's background is in chemistry. Photography, stocks and good food are among his many interests. He served as a yearbook photographer for several years. Henry spent his summers in research at City Hospital, traveling in Europe, and as an Orthopedic extern. A career in Psychiatry is in the future.

CLEMENT CHUKS UGORJI
South Baltimore General Hospital
Rotating

Adding an international flavor to our class, Clement traveled from West Africa where he attended Livingstone College, majoring in biology and chemistry. Summers were spent externing at South Baltimore General Hospital. His hobby is writing which should serve him well for future endeavors in medical practice, teaching and writing.

Clement C. Ugorji M.D.

ARTHUR MALCOLM WAGNER
Sinai Hospital, Baltimore
Rotating

Arthur is one of the most personable, relaxed members of the class. A natural science major at the University of Pennsylvania, he returned to Baltimore for his medical education. Summers were spent as a fellow in Psychiatry, Urology and Renal Medicine. Art served for two years as SAMA treasurer and was an active member of Phi Delta Epsilon. Married to Debbie, a present sophomore medical student, Art's future plans are for specialty training in Surgery.

Arthur M. Wagner M.D.

ROBERTA ANN WARD
University Hospital, Baltimore
Pediatrics

Roberta is a future pediatrician who enjoys tennis as much as Pediatrics. A New Yorker, she came to Baltimore for her medical training after obtaining a B.S. from Pennsylvania State University. Interested in community pediatrics, Roberta worked for two summers at the Community Pediatric Center. Well known for her happy smile and optimistic manner, she is a well liked member of the class of 1970.

Roberta A. Ward M.D.

WILLIAM ADDISON WARREN
Washington Hospital Center, D.C.
Medicine

Class vice-president for four years, Bill trained at the University of North Carolina as an English major. With Nancy, his school teacher wife, Bill lived in Laurel which, perhaps, he found better suited for his outdoors and sporty hobbies. A member of Nu Sigma Nu, Bill worked one summer as a fellow for the Maryland TB Association. Future plans include either Internal Medicine or Family Practice.

William A Warren M.D.

ARTHUR M. WARWICK
University Hospital, Baltimore
Psychiatry

Art, who is one of the more accomplished Monopoly players (despite underhanded tactics by wife Lois), in the class will "go directly to residency without collecting an internship". Following graduation he will remain at University Hospital in the Psychiatric residency program. He will bring with him past experience gained from a 1967 fellowship in Physiology, a 1968 fellowship in Neurology, and a 1969 elective in Neurology at Albert Einstein Medical School. A member of SAMA, and Phi Delta Epsilon, Art ranks near the top of the class and has been selected as a member of A.O.A. Art is a graduate of Western Reserve University.

Arthur Warwick MD

CHARLES IRVING WEINER
University Hospital, Baltimore
Medicine

Artistically inclined, our senior class social chairman took his undergraduate training at Gettysburg College where he received a B.A. in biology. An active member of Phi Delta Epsilon, Chuck served successive years as social chairman, veep, and historian. He also received the Phi D E scholarship in 1969. Summers were spent working for Public Health, in the ER at City, and in Ob-Gyn at Mercy. Chuck also spent two years working many odd hours for the Division of Infectious Diseases at the prison. This oil painting and modern music enthusiast travelled to Boston for senior Pediatrics, Hopkins for Radiology, and Sinai for ER training. Chuck and Ilene plan a career in Radiology.

Charles I. Weiner, M.D.

ROBERT IRVING WHITE
Hartford Hospital, Hartford, Conn.
Mixed-Med/Surg

Sandy came to med school an alumnus of Wesleyan University with a B.S. in biology. The sole representative of his home town of Waterbury, Connecticut, he spent the first two summers worhing as a lab technician and a house painter. Junior summer he utilized his talents and interest by working as a clinical fellow in Urology with Dr. Young. He and Marion look forward to a future in the practice of Urology or General Surgery.

Robert I. White M.D.

STANLEY M. ZABOROWSKI
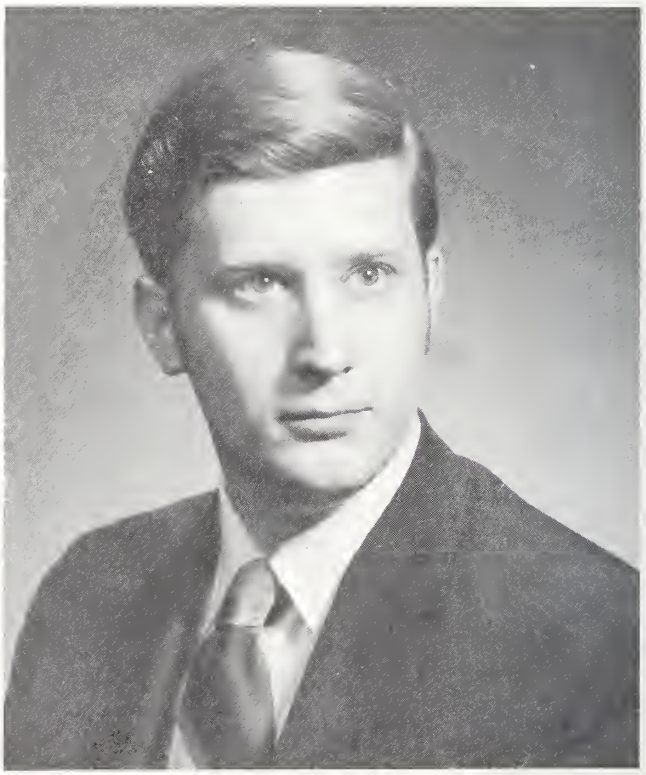
New York Memorial, Albany
Medicine

Stan, a biology major from St. Peter's College in Jersey City, continued his education in Baltimore at the University of Maryland School of Medicine and the Pimlico Race Track. His education was obviously complete since he was elected to A.O.A. and is graduating Cum Laude. Summers were spent on fellowships at Mercy Hospital and honeymooning in Puerto Rico with his own private EEG technician, Angie. Stan hopes to practice Cardiology in the New York area.



Stanley M. Zaborowski MD.

BERNARD E. ZELIGMAN
St. Luke's Hospital, Denver
Mixed-Med/Surg

A native of San Diego, California, Bernie traveled east for his undergraduate training and received his B.A. from Johns Hopkins. He spent one summer working in the Pulmonary Function Laboratory. His interests include canoeing and backpacking. Future professional plans are presently undecided.

Bernard E. Zeligman, M.D.

NORMAN LEE ZELLER
Children's Hospital, Los Angeles
Pediatrics

Norm hails from Claremont, California, where he hopes to return to practice Pediatrics. A psychology major at Laverne College in Laverne, California, Norm worked prior to starting medical school at NIH in Bethesda. While in school, his summers were spent at NIH, Baltimore City Hospital in gerontology research, and the Community Pediatrics Center. A woodworker in his spare time, Norman served as class treasurer during his junior year. Norm, his wife Lois and their daughter Christine Lee will travel back to California where Norm will intern in Pediatrics.
